

HE PINCHED HER.

A well known archbishop of Dublin was, towards the end of his life, afflicted by his absence of mind, that led often to starting developments. The most devout of men—the best of husbands—he figured in one anecdote that might have got a less well known pietist into trouble. It was at a dinner given by the old lieutenant of Ireland.

In the midst of the dinner the company was startled by seeing the archbishop rise from his seat, looking pale and agitated, and crying: "It has come—it has come!"

"What has come, your grace?" eagerly cried half a dozen voices from different parts of the table.

"What I have been expecting for some years—a stroke of paralysis," solemnly answered the archbishop. "I have been pinching myself for the past two minutes and find my leg entirely without sensation."

"Pardon me, my dear archbishop," said the hostess, looking up to him with a quizzical smile, "pardon me for contradicting you, but it is I that you have been pinching!"

HIGH LIGHTS.

A man's best capital is his industry.

A society woman is one who has learned to smile like a politician.

Friends are those people who act surprised when we tell them how old we are.

A girl never gets over the shock of encountering a man who proposes but once.

Every woman thinks she can make better coffee than any other woman she knows.

When a widow remembers how much sugar a bachelor takes in his tea he had better look out.

Some women put money in the bank just to have that important feeling when they draw it out.

Being admired by the wrong man always makes a woman mad at him for not being the other one.

A woman selects a husband by herself, but she takes three other women with her to help pick out a dress.

HIS FEELINGS WERE HURT.

"I used to think these mother-in-law jokes were fiction," said a young man with a fancy vest and a receding chin, "but I guess they're justifiable."

"Has yours been cruel to you?"

"Yes. I told two or three of these stories about a man's being glad to be rid of his wife's mother and she said that if I kept on talking in that manner she'd stop paying the house rent and the coal bill and the taxes, and that she'd take her furniture to fix up a home of her own. The idea of threatening a man in that way, in cold blood,

We read of the blizzards in the North with feelings akin to hilarity, tinged with pity for the suffering inhabitants.

If you can always induce the dead past to bury its dead, the air will be purer.

Burglar—Your money or your life. Sleepy Father—"Take both, but don't wake the baby."

If your son expects you to regard him as a hero every time he tells the truth, that only shows his resemblance to Washington.

New England is to-day experiencing the coldest winter of the season. The thermometer registers 30 degrees below zero in some localities.

A stomachful of undigested food is about as unhealthy a mass as one can well imagine.

What can be done with it? There it stays. It won't digest. It chokes up, ferments and decays; becomes poisonous, as all putrid matter does, and causes great pain and deep-seated disorders.

In order to change all this, take Saler Digestive Cordial.

It stops fermentation and decay at once, so that no more poisons are created.

It clears the stomach of poisons already there. It helps it to turn the food that remains into healthful nourishment. It strengthens the stomach for the next meal.

It is the whole philosophy and cure of indigestion in a few words. And what's more, it's all true. Try it.

Shaker Digestive Cordial is for sale by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 a bottle.

"The lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine," is the motto of young ladies' club in New England States. Hence the universal demand for straw.

A vivacious woman can frequently speak in more eloquent language than any known to the tongue of man. She can invite or repel, sigh or smile, be meek or haughty, or a passion to tatters or humbly seek forgiveness.

It can also tell the story of health. A woman who suffers from weakness and disease in a womanly way sits in sorrow and dejection while her healthy sisters enjoy themselves.

Keep your head up and your bowels open. The "Golden Medical Discovery" will put blood in your backbones, and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure constipation.

TO CONFEDERATE COMMANDERS.

Government Request For List Of Confederate Cemeteries.

A dispatch from New Orleans says: George Morgan, adjutant-general has issued a circular to United Confederate Division commanders in each Southern State, in which he says:

"Official request has been made by an officer of the government, asking these headquarters to furnish at once a list of all graveyards or cemeteries where Confederate soldiers are buried, and as far as possible the number of interments."

"Will you please send at once names of cemeteries, location, and number interred, as far as you are able, and at once take means to ascertain and report at your very earliest convenience all in your division?"

THEN AND NOW.

Newspapers are a great convenience to men and women. Formerly when an article was wanted a trip to the store was necessary to ascertain if the commodity was in stock and if the price was suitable. Now a glance at the advertising columns direct a man here to make his purchases and he loses no time in finding what he wants. At no time men came to ask the merchant what he had but now a merchant must tell the people what he has. This has been accomplished by the newspaper; it being the best means of communication.

When a man begins to advertise. It means he's full of enterprise. He's got the barnacles off his back. And shows his fellows where they lack. The old mossbacks may growl and kick. But the advertiser "gets there" quick. Providing all his wares are "straight," Reasonable in price and up-to-date. Truth and facts must be the rule. For the people now you cannot fool. Since in this age they read and think. And follow the light of printer's ink.

WINE OF CARDUI

For Mothers!

This discovery of the dangers of child-birth can be almost entirely avoided. Wine of Cardui relieves expected mothers. It gives tone to the genital organs, and puts them in condition to do their work perfectly. That makes pregnancy painful, shortens labor and hastens recovery after child-birth. It helps a woman bear strong healthy children.

AGRICULTURAL PAPER.

It is edited by writers of practical experience who know what farming means and what farmers want in an agricultural journal. It contains regular reports of the Agricultural Experiment Stations throughout the country, of the proceedings of farmers' clubs and institutes, and the discussion of new methods and ideas in agriculture. Its Market Report, Poultry Department and Veterinary column are particularly valuable to country readers. The Poultry Department is edited by a well-known poultry expert, and every issue contains practical information of value for poultry-raisers. "Poultry" on many farms has become a great source of revenue, and those interested in this profitable industry will find the Poultry Department of the Weekly Sun invaluable in the way of suggestions, advice and information. Every issue contains Stories, Poems, Household and Puzzle Columns, a variety of interesting and instructive selected matter and other features, which make it a welcome visitor in city and country homes alike.

One Dollar a year. Inducements to getters-up of clubs for the Weekly Sun. Both the Daily and Weekly Sun mailed free of postage in the United States, Canada and Mexico. Payment invariably in advance.

THE GREATEST ALMANAC.

A Wonderful Collection of Facts Issued by "The Philadelphia Press."

To those familiar with the Almanac issued by "The Philadelphia Press," Pennsylvania's Greatest Newspaper, the announcement that the 1899 edition is on sale is quite sufficient to induce purchase. Those who have examined the contents of the two previous volumes issued by that paper know that there is not to be found in the United States—and if not there, nowhere in the world—an almanac which surpasses "The Press" for accuracy, comprehensiveness, variety and attractiveness. It is a volume of over 300 pages, replete with the information that every citizen interested in the past, the present or the future of the country in which he lives needs constantly. What "The Philadelphia Press" does for the news of the world daily its Almanac does for the events of the year. There is not one element of human activity which is not touched on. The farmer and the merchant, the clerk and the professional man may each find in it something to interest and to instruct. It answers the many questions concerning the Government of the United States and of foreign nations, it is a valuable resume of the war with Spain, it abounds with statistics from commercial and industrial pursuits, tells the story of the part played by the Keystone boys in the late war—and is, in fact, a complete encyclopedia of the world's activities during 1898, and must be indispensable to every thinking American citizen. The Almanac may be had from newsdealers, or by sending 10 cents to "The Press," Philadelphia.

THE WEATHER CALENDAR.

The GAZETTE has received the Cardui Weather Chart and Calendar for 1899 from The Chattanooga Medicine Co., manufacturers of McElree's Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught. This is one of the best Calendars published. It consists of twelve sheets of paper, 12x20 inches in size, all fastened together with a brass loop hanger. Each sheet contains the calendar for one month in large figures that can be read across the room. Under the calendar weather signals indicate Prof. DeVoie's Weather Forecast for every day in the year appear. The moon's changes and legal holidays are also shown. The calendar is a valuable home. We understand a few copies of it can be secured by sending 10 one-cent postage stamps to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.
